Breakthrough Employer - Walgreens

Kyle Hume has worked at Walgreens since last September. A job he acquired through Goodwill's Pathways to Work program. It's a program that helps people with disabilities learn the skills needed to get employed. Walgreens is a company that works with participants, providing On the Job Training (or OJT) worksites.

"They were doing this program in Cape Coral. One of the store managers that had a participant was one of my Assistant Store Managers a while back," said Sal Sorvillo, Walgreens Store Manager. "So, when I talked to her and she explained how things were working, I thought it was a great idea."

It was Sal's williness to give Kyle a chance that opened the door, and Kyle's Goodwill job coach, Mary Jane Nickerson, who helped him learn the skills needed to land his first job.

"She got me OJT training here, which was Perfect!" said Kyle Hume. It went well here, and I finally got hired."

Celebrating the 7th Anniversary of Pathways to Opportunity

2020 was a challenging year as PTO transitioned to a virtual platform, PTO-2-Go. This allowed participants to continue taking classes safely from their homes, working on goals and staying connected.

Now, that we are able to bring PTO participants back on campus, we are able to offer both in-person and virtual classes!

PTO is an adult day training program that offers group classes based on participant needs and interests.

These classes are taught by trained professionals in conjunction with community members. The program emphasizes individualized, personcentered outcomes aimed at achieving and maintaining integrated lives in the community. People with intellectual and developmental disabilities should be able to live, work and play in their local neighborhoods and communities. To this end, our program is outcome driven, focused on ensuring that training results in progress and achievement of the outcomes identified by program participants.

Thank you to all of our amazing PTO staff who work hard every day to make this possible!
